In partnership with

THE LUXEMBOURG RENMINBI FORUM 2015

The second edition of the Luxembourg RMB Forum focuses on China's ongoing financial reform in a challenging economic context. Renowned international experts will address during this full-day conference current themes around the internationalisation of the renminbi, while concentrating on China's efforts to liberalise capital markets. Discussions aim to demystify various schemes set up for investors, such as RQFII and Stock Connect. Further topics include investor's appetite for renminbi products as well as the role of international RMB hubs and the development of clearing activities.

Target group

International audience of senior business or policy decision makers and practitioners interested in the growing renminbi market in Europe and opportunities arising therefrom.
